

CPD Opportunities

CPD can take many forms, and is as much your responsibility (and reward!) as anyone else's.

Take a look through the following recognised types of CPD and I think you could be surprised at how much you could already add to your log!

- Study for recognised qualifications
- Attend conferences and exhibitions
- Attend in-house short training courses, workshops and online learning offered
- Ask for appraisals, observations with feedback
- Take shadowing opportunities
- Impart knowledge such as through writing articles for publication and heading up a CPD session for other teachers in your area / agency
- Mentoring and having another supply teacher shadow you
- Contribute to the community by participating in groups such as the Facebook Supply Teacher Network, or your local union group
- Private study to include online research, reading education publications and learning new, job-related skills such as BSL or circus craft

Please keep your CPD log up to date and make sure that any agency has a chance to view it. Try and keep as much evidence of participation and activity as you can. If you'd like something in writing to prove you are undertaking any CPD through my sites / groups, then please do ask and I'll be happy to oblige.

Best wishes,
Sharon

CPD Log

Date	Area of Development	Description	Actions Arising	Evidence	Hours

Signed:

CPD Log

Date	Area of Development	Description	Actions Arising	Evidence	Hours

Signed: